

FINAL CONFERENCE AGENDA, SPEAKER AND CHAIR BIOS, PARTICIPANTS' LIST

What's missing in the response to the global financial crisis?

Rethinking the global financial system during a time of crisis

Organized by the

Co-hosted by

The North-South Institute • L'Institut Nord-Sud

uOttawa
L'Université canadienne
Canada's university and

ÉDIM École de développement international et mondialisation
SIDGS School of International Development and Global Studies

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS and THANKS

SPONSORS - This conference would not have been possible without the financial support of a number of organizations for which we are extremely grateful. These organizations include the following:

*Canadian Council for International Co-operation –
Asia Pacific Working Group
Canadian Labour Congress
Inter Pares
The North-South Institute*

*Results Canada
The UN Millennium Campaign
The University of Ottawa – School of International Development and Global Studies
The World Federalist Movement - Canada*

CO-HOSTS - Thanks to The North-South Institute, the University of Ottawa and the School of International Development and Global Studies

STEERING COMMITTEE - Thanks to members of the Steering Committee for their guidance in the development of this conference: John Dillon (KAIROS – Canadian Ecumenical Justice Initiatives), Bill Morton and Roy Culpeper, (The North-South Institute), Gauri Sreenivasan (Canadian Council for International Co-operation), Anna Nitoslawska (Canadian Labour Congress), Catherine Coumans (MiningWatch Canada) and Susan Spronk (School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa)

CONFERENCE ORGANIZERS The Halifax Initiative would also like to thank Candice Vetter and Luigamla Kashungnao for their assistance with logistical details and in helping to prepare some of the conference materials.

VOLUNTEERS – Thanks to Nicole M. Deschênes, Nima Ghomeshi, Jane Maxwell, Sarah Peek, Arne Ruckert and Kent Spott.

CORE FUNDERS - The Halifax Initiative Coalition also wishes to thank the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation, the International Development Research Centre, the Sigrid Rausing Trust and our members for their continued financial support.

* * *

ABOUT THE HALIFAX INITIATIVE COALITION - Canadian NGOs formed the Halifax Initiative Coalition in November 1994 to ensure that fundamental reform of the international financial institutions (IFIs), namely the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, was high on the agenda of the Group of Seven's (G7) Halifax Summit. In 1999, the Halifax Initiative launched a campaign to encourage Export Development Canada, the Canadian export credit agency, to take better account of environmental and human rights issues. Today the Halifax Initiative is a coalition of 19 development, environment, faith-based, human rights and labour groups. It is the Canadian presence for public interest research and education on the IFIs.

Our members include:

Canadian Catholic Organization for Development and Peace
Canadian Conference of Catholic Bishops, Social Affairs Office
Canadian Council for International Co-operation
Canadian Friends of Burma
Canadian Labour Congress
CAW-Canada Social Justice Fund
CUSO
Democracy Watch
Falls Brook Centre
Kairos: Canadian Ecumenical Justice Initiatives
MiningWatch Canada
The North-South Institute

Oxfam Canada
Oxfam Québec
RESULTS Canada
Rights & Democracy
Social Justice Committee
Steelworkers Humanity Fund
World Interaction Mondiale

*Halifax Initiative Coalition
153 Chapel Street, Suite 104
Ottawa, ON K1N 1H5 CANADA
Tel.: +1 613 789-4447
Fax: +1 613 241-4170
info@halifaxinitiative.org www.halifaxinitiative.org*

FINAL CONFERENCE AGENDA

What's missing in the response to the global financial crisis? Rethinking the global financial system during a time of crisis

October 19 – 20, 2009
Ottawa, Canada

Goals

- Engage the Canadian government in discussions about the April and September G-20 responses to the global financial crisis;
- Build on the outcomes of the UN Conference on the World Economic and Financial Crisis and its Impact on Development and the findings of the Stiglitz Commission;
- Inform the agenda for the G8 summit in Canada on elements relating to the global financial crisis, and profile the role Canada can play in responding to these issues;
- Raise the awareness of the Canadian public, parliamentarians, media and key decision-makers about some of the alternative responses to the financial crisis.

Anticipated Outputs

- 6-8 page briefing paper drawing from the discussion the implications for Canadian policy looking ahead to the G8 (G-20 and follow-up to the UN Conference on the World Economic and Financial Crisis);
- A series of audio podcasts of the various speeches, potentially also including the discussion.

* * *

Monday, October 19

90 University Private (a residence), Lounge 140, University of Ottawa
(Open to the general public)

5:30 p.m. – Thinking the unthinkable – The global financial crisis as an opportunity for transformative and systemic change?
7:30 p.m.

Welcome and introduction to the panel

Catherine Coumans, Outgoing Chair, Halifax Initiative Coalition and Andrea Martinez, Director, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa

Moderator: Kari Polanyi Levitt, Emerita Professor of Economics, McGill University

Causes of, and responses to, the global financial crisis

Chuck Freedman, Co-Director, Centre for Monetary and Financial Economics, Carleton University

Impacts of the crisis and expanding the agenda for change

Jomo K. Sundaram, Assistant Secretary-General for Economic Development,
Department of Economic and Social Affairs, United Nations

The role of the UN in addressing the crisis - Recommendations from the UN Commission of Experts

Dr. José Antonio Ocampo, Director, Program in Economic and Political Development, School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University and member of the Commission of Experts of the President of the UN General Assembly on Reforms of the International Monetary and Financial System

Questions and answers and discussion

7:30 - 8:30 Reception - University of Ottawa

Tuesday, October 20

Sir Guy and Lady Carleton Room, 2nd Floor, Residence Inn by Marriott, 161 Laurier Avenue West (between Metcalfe and Elgin)

(More targeted audience)

8:00 – 9:00 Registration

9:00 – 9:10 Introduction and welcome
Bill Morton, Chair, Halifax Initiative Coalition

9:10 – 9:30 Thematic overview of the crisis, its impacts, current responses and future opportunities
Roy Culpeper, President, The North-South Institute

Governance and institution

9:30 -11:00 Global economic governance in crisis: new players, new power
Moderator: Gordon Betcherman, Professor, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa

The emerging role of the G20 as the Leaders Forum

John Sinclair, Senior Fellow, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa

Reforming global governance, and addressing power imbalances

Domenico Lombardi, President, The Oxford Institute for Economic Policy and Nonresident Senior Fellow, Brookings Institution

Questions and answers and discussion

11:00 – 11:15 Coffee break

Rules and policies

11:15 – 1:00 Raising and retaining funds
Moderator: Teresa Healy, Senior Researcher, Social and Economic Policy Department, Canadian Labour Congress

Policy responses to unfettered finance
Pablo Heidrich, Senior Researcher, The North-South Institute

Plugging the leaks
Raymond Baker, Director, Global Financial Integrity

Africa's trade during the crisis and the conclusion of the Doha Round
Tina Nanyangwe, formerly Jesuit Center for Theological Reflection

Questions and answers and discussion

1:00 – 2:00 Lunch

Looking ahead - A looming debt crisis?

2:00 – 3:30 Towards ensuring future responsible lending
Moderator: John Dillon, Economic Justice Coordinator, KAIROS-Canada

Beyond a new debt crisis
Gail Hurley, Policy and Advocacy Officer, European Network on Debt and Development

Establishing an Independent Sovereign Debt Workout Mechanism
Oscar Ugarteche, Senior Research Fellow, Instituto de Investigaciones Económicas, UNAM, Mexico and member of the Latin American Network on Debt and Development (LATINDAD)

Questions and answers and discussion

3:30 – 3:45 Coffee break

Perspectives on proposals for change

3:45 – 5:15 Rethinking the global financial system
Moderator: Cristina Rojas, Professor, Norman Paterson School of International Affairs, Carleton University

Rethinking the global financial architecture –perspectives from the Inter-Governmental Group of 24
Amar Bhattacharya, Director, Inter-Governmental Group of 24

Rethinking the global financial architecture – perspectives from civil society
Soren Ambrose, Development Finance Coordinator, Action Aid International

Rethinking global development finance – perspectives from the Canadian government

John Davies, Director and IDA Deputy, International Finance and Development Division, Finance Canada

Questions and answers and discussion

5:15 - 5:30

Close and summing up

Gerry Barr, President-CEO, Canadian Council for International Co-operation and Chair, Make Poverty History Canada

By invitation only

6:30 – 7:00

Drinks reception – by invitation only

7:00 – 10:00

Halifax Initiative 15th Anniversary Dinner – by invitation only

BIOGRAPHIES – SPEAKERS AND CHAIRS

The biographies are listed in alphabetical order.

Soren Ambrose, Development Finance Coordinator of Action Aid International

Soren Ambrose is the Development Finance Coordinator of Action Aid International. He has been a leading member of many organizations including 50 Years is Enough, New Voices on Globalization, Daughters of Mumbi Global Resource Center and the Bank Information Center. He has been quoted by the BBC, New York Times, Washington Post and others and was profiled in the Financial Times. He was a lead organizer of the April 2000 protests against the IMF and World Bank in Washington, D.C.

Raymond Baker, Director of Global Financial Integrity

Raymond Baker is the Director of Global Financial Integrity and is a Senior Fellow at the Center for International Policy in Washington, DC. He is the author of Capitalism's Achilles Heel: Dirty Money and How to Renew the Free-Market System, cited by the Financial Times as one of the "best business books of 2005," as well as The Biggest Loophole in the Free-Market System, Illegal Flight Capital; Dangers for Global Stability, and How Dirty Money Binds the Poor. He is an internationally respected authority on corruption, money laundering, growth and foreign policy issues. He has written and spoken extensively and testified before legislative committees in the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom. He frequently appears on television and radio including appearances on Nightline, CNN, BBC, NPR, Four Corners, and GloboNews.

Gerry Barr, C.M., President-CEO, Canadian Council for International Co-operation

Gerry Barr is the President-CEO of the Canadian Council for International Co-operation (CCIC) a coalition representing about 100 leading Canadian non-governmental organizations engaged in international development. Gerry Barr is a Member of the Order of Canada. He was awarded the Pearson Peace Medal in 1996 for his personal contribution to aid to the developing world, mediation in conflict, and peaceful change through international cooperation.

He is the co-chair of Make Poverty History (Canada). MPH campaigns for More and Better Aid, Trade Justice, the cancellation of the debt of the world's poorest countries and - in Canada - the eradication of child poverty. Gerry Barr is also co-chair of the International Civil Liberties Monitoring Group – a national coalition organized to monitor, and promote public discussion of, the human rights implications of anti-terrorism laws in Canada and other countries.

Before joining CCIC in January of 2001, Gerry Barr was the Executive Director of the Steelworkers Humanity Fund, a labour-based non-governmental organization that supports projects undertaken by partner organizations in 13 countries and five regions of the world. He has served on several Boards and Steering Committees including those of the North South Institute (1994-2000), the Ethical Trading Action Group (1996-2000), the Horn of Africa Policy Group (1991-1993).

Gordon Betcherman, Professor, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa

Gordon Betcherman is a professor at the School of International Development and Global Studies at the University of Ottawa. He was a World Bank expert on labour standards and social protection where he was responsible for leading research, policy and operational support activities in many areas including industrial relations, core labour standards, labour law, active labour market policies, and support for unemployed workers. Prior to joining the World Bank he was one of Canada's leading researchers and analysts on employment issues. He is a visiting fellow at the School of Policy Studies at Queen's University, director of the Canadian Policy Research Networks, and member of the Statistics Canada Advisory Committee on Labour Statistics and the editorial board of the Canadian Business Economics Journal.

Amar Bhattacharya, Director, Intergovernmental Group of 24

Amar Bhattacharya is currently Director of the Group of 24. The Intergovernmental Group of Twenty-Four on International Monetary Affairs and Development (G-24) was established in 1971 with the objective of helping to articulate and support the position of developing countries in the discussions of the IMF, World Bank and other relevant fora. Prior to taking up his current position, Mr. Bhattacharya had a long-standing career in the World Bank. His last position was as Senior Advisor and Head of the International Policy and Partnership Group in the Poverty Reduction and Economic Management Network of the World Bank. In this capacity, he was the focal point for the Bank's engagement with key international groupings and institutions such as the G7/G8, G20, IMF, OECD and the Commonwealth Secretariat, including on the reform of the aid as well as international financial architecture.

Catherine Coumans, Ph.D., Research Coordinator and Asia-Pacific Program Coordinator, MiningWatch Canada

Catherine is the Research Coordinator of MiningWatch Canada, an organization that responds to public health, water and air quality, fish and wildlife habitat and community interests posed by irresponsible mineral policies and practices in Canada and by Canadian companies around the world. Catherine has supervised Canadian and international research projects and co-authored peer reviewed reports on topics such as full-cost accounting for mining, revitalizing economies of mining dependent communities, submarine tailings disposal, human rights impact assessment and participatory health research. She has numerous publications in journals and books on mining-related issues, and co-authored The Framework for Responsible Mining: A Guide to Evolving Standards (2005).

Catherine also works with regional Non-Governmental Organizations and mining-affected communities in India, Burma, Thailand, Indonesia, the Philippines, Papua New Guinea and Kanaky-New Caledonia. Her work has particularly focused on indigenous peoples affected by Canadian mining companies in this region. Catherine has also participated in various government-led multi-stakeholder processes. Most recently she was on the Government's Advisory Group for the National Roundtables on CSR and the Canadian Extractive Industry in Developing Countries. She is currently on the steering committee of the multi-stakeholder research organization Mine Environment Neutral Drainage and is the Chair of the Halifax Initiative Coalition.

She holds an MSc (London School of Economics) and PhD (McMaster University) in Cultural Anthropology, carried out Postdoctoral research at Cornell University, and has taught at both Cornell and McMaster.

Roy Culpeper, President and CEO, The North-South Institute

Roy Culpeper received his PhD in Economics from the University of Toronto in 1975. Culpeper joined The North-South Institute in 1986 and was Vice-President and Coordinator of Research from 1991 until 1995, when he was appointed President. Before joining the Institute, his work experience included positions in the Manitoba government's Cabinet Planning Secretariat, the federal Department of Finance, and the Department of External Affairs and International Trade. From 1983 to 1986, Culpeper was advisor to the Canadian executive director at the World Bank in Washington. At the Institute, he has conducted research on a broad range of issues relating to international finance and, from 1993 to 1995, he directed the Institute's largest-ever project, a comprehensive study of four regional development banks. He is the author of numerous publications, including Titans or Behemoths?: The Multilateral Development Banks; and Canada and the Global Governors: Reforming the Multilateral Development Banks. Since his appointment as President, the Institute has annually published the Canadian Development Report, and has launched research in new areas such as corporate responsibility and human security.

John Davies, Director and IDA Deputy, International Finance and Development Division, Finance Canada

JD joined the Department of Finance since 2001. His group looks after the World Bank and other multilateral development banks, IMF relations with developing countries, the international assistance budget, debt relief issues, and export finance.

John Dillon, Economic Justice Coordinator, KAIROS-Canada

John Dillon has been a researcher on international trade and finance issues on behalf of the Canadian churches since 1973, first with the GATT-Fly project which was later renamed the Ecumenical Coalition for Economic Justice. John continues the same duties now as Program Coordinator for Economic Justice with KAIROS: Canadian Ecumenical Justice Initiatives.

Chuck Freedman, Co-Director, Centre for Monetary and Financial Economics, Carleton University

Freedman is Scholar in Residence in the Department of Economics and co-director of the Centre for Monetary and Financial Economics at Carleton University. He worked at the Bank of Canada from 1974 to 2003, serving as Deputy Governor from 1988 to 2003. As Deputy Governor his principal concerns were matters related to the design of monetary policy and issues regarding financial institutions and clearing and settlement systems.

Prior to joining the Bank of Canada in 1974, Freedman was a faculty member at the University of Minnesota. He was the Clifford Clark Visiting Economist at the Department of Finance, a member of the Financial Stability Forum and of the Committee on Payment and Settlement Systems at the Bank for International Settlements.

Subsequent to his retirement, Freedman served as a consultant for a number of central banks and participated in IMF workshops on inflation targeting. He is currently participating in research with staff of the Research Department of the IMF and editing a book on inflation targeting for the IMF. Freedman is also a director and chair of the audit committee of The Canadian Depository for Securities Limited.

Freedman studied at the University of Toronto, Oxford University, and M.I.T., from which he received a PhD in Economics.

Teresa Healey, Adjunct Research Professor, Institute for Political Economy, Carleton University

Teresa Healy is Adjunct Research Professor at the Institute for Political Economy at Carleton University, is Research Associate at the Canadian Centre for Policy Alternatives, is a senior researcher with the Social and Economic Policy Department of the Canadian Labour Congress, and was previously with the Canadian Union of Public Employees. She holds a doctorate in Political Science from Carleton University and has lectured at Sir Wilfred Laurier University and Trent University. She specializes in North American integration, labour and public sector issues, and is author of Gendered Struggles Against Globalization in Mexico.

Pablo Heidrich, Senior researcher on Trade and Development at NSI

Pablo Heidrich is a senior researcher on Trade and Development at NSI. Previously, with the Latin American Trade Network (Argentina). Works on political economy of trade and finance, trade policies during financial crises, regional cooperation in trade and finance, and political economy of energy. Regional expertise on Latin America and East Asia. Recent research projects are: BRICS Strategies at the WTO in a Global Crisis (2009), Policy Responses to Unfettered Finance (2008-2009), Financial Crises and Trade Disputes (2006-2008). Trade and Economic Policies of the New Latin American Left (2007), Energy and Infrastructure Integration in South America (2005-2007), Academic background in international relations (Manhattanville College, USA, and FLACSO, Argentina), economic development (Tsukuba University, Japan), and international political economy (University of Southern California, USA).

Gail Hurley, Policy and Advocacy Officer, European Network on Debt and Development

Gail Hurley is the Policy and Advocacy Officer at the European Network on Debt and Development. Her responsibilities include Eurodad's work on multilateral debt, illegitimate debt and financial architecture. Before joining Eurodad she was Coordinator of the European Volunteer Centre in Brussels. She has also worked at the European Commission. She has a BA Honours degree from the University of Liverpool and MSc in Development Studies from the School of African and Oriental Studies at the University of London.

Kari Polanyi Levitt, Emerita Professor of Economics at McGill University

Kary Polanyi Levitt is Emerita Professor McGill University, specialising in Political Economy and Economics of Development; founding member of the Canadian Association for the Study of International Development; honorary president of the Karl Polanyi Institute of Political Economy at Concordia University; and recipient of the J. K. Galbraith Prize from the Progressive Economics Forum of Canada. Among her publications are Silent Surrender: The Multinational Corporation in Canada; Reclaiming Development: Independent Thought and Caribbean Community; and the recently published Essays on the Theory of Plantation Economy: A Historical and Institutional Approach to Caribbean Economic Development, co-authored with Lloyd Best.

Domenico Lombardi, President of the Oxford Institute for Economic Policy

Domenico Lombardi is President of The Oxford Institute for Economic Policy (OXONIA). He is a member of leading policy fora including the Brookings Institution, the Bretton Woods Committee's International Council, the G20 Research Group, the G8 Research Group, Aspen Institute Italia and the Institute for International Affairs in Rome. Dr. Lombardi is a Managing Editor of World Economics and sits on the editorial boards of various journals. He has previously advised the Executive Boards of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank. Dr. Lombardi's academic interests focus on the reform of the international financial and monetary system, and the creation of a new aid architecture. His research has been published in several peer-reviewed journals and has been referred to in Congressional hearings and government reports. His edited volume Finance, Development, and the IMF has just been released from Oxford University Press. Most recently, Dr. Lombardi has authored a Report on the reform of the IMF upon request of the IMF Managing Director. Dr. Lombardi has an undergraduate degree in Financial Economics from Bocconi University, Milan, and he did his postgraduate studies at Harvard University, The London School of Economics and Oxford University (Nuffield College), from which he holds a Ph.D. in Economics.

Andrea Martinez, Director, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa

Andrea Martinez is a full professor and director of the School of International Development and Global Studies at the University of Ottawa. She was the first coordinator (2001-2004) of COLAM's Inter-American Training Network on Women and Development, a university consortium that jointly offers academic programs and professional training fostering an intercultural perspective on feminist topics of continental interest. She also served for six years as Director (2000-2006) of the Institute of Women's Studies at the University of Ottawa. Her publications include numerous articles and book chapters on the struggle against poverty, violence and other forms of deprivation of marginalized women (Afro descendent and aboriginal women female refugees, teenage mothers, HIV-positive women or victims of international trafficking). More recently, her involvement in the field of sexual and reproductive rights has led her to forge links with university partners, aboriginal women's groups and NGOs in Latin America (especially in Chile, Argentina, Costa Rica, Peru and Brazil) to promote equity and social justice.

Bill Morton, Senior Research, The North-South Institute

Bill Morton's original profession was as a social worker. He began his career in international development with Oxfam Australia as Coordinator of their Horn of Africa program, and later worked for an international development consulting company. He joined the North-South Institute in 2004, where he is Senior Researcher, Development Cooperation. He leads the Institute's work on international aid policy and effectiveness, and on Canada's aid program. He is also current Chair of the Halifax Initiative Coalition.

Tina Nanyangwe, former Coordinator, Debt, Aid and Trade Programme, Jesuit Centre for Theological Research

From March 2007 – to August 2009, Tina worked as Programme Officer for Aid Policy and Research in the Debt, Aid and Trade Programme at the Jesuit Centre for Theological Reflection (JCTR). She was responsible for crafting and designing research studies and appropriate research tools, developing concept notes and undertaking both desk and field studies on socio-economic issues. Later in 2008, she became Coordinator of the Programme, conducting detailed analyses of Zambia's National Budgets, and presenting the JCTR's views on the budget and economic indicators in particular as they relate to promoting the plight of the poor in Zambia . During this period, she was also a lecturer in Political Studies at the University of Zambia. Whilst at the JCTR, she spearhead the mobilisation of local citizens in various campaigns on trade issues and pressing the government to establish a law that would enhance citizen-wide consultation in the procurement of both domestic and external loans to serve the country from slipping back in the debt trap.

Prior to working at the JCTR, she was a Monitoring and Evaluation Officer for Afya Mzuri, a Zambian NGO funded by the DFID and SHARe/USAID, specialising in implementing HIV and AIDS prevention, treatment and care programmes for the private sector, workplaces and communities. She graduated from the University of Zambia in 2005 where she studied a Bachelor of Arts in Economics and Demography.

José Antonio Ocampo, Director, Program in Economic and Political Development, School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University

José Antonio Ocampo, a Colombian citizen, holds a B.A. in Economics and Sociology from the University of Notre Dame (1972), and a Ph.D. in Economics from Yale University (1976). He has received a number of personal honors and distinctions, including the 2008 Leontief Prize for Advancing the Frontiers of Economic Thought and the 1988 "Alejandro Angel Escobar" National Science Award of Colombia. Since July 2007, he is Professor and Director of the Economic and Political Development Concentration in the School of International and Public Affairs and Fellow of the Committee on Global Thought at Columbia University, and is currently a Member of the Commission of Experts of the UN General Assembly on Reforms of the International Monetary and Financial System. From 2003 to 2007 he served as the United Nations Under-Secretary-General for Economic and Social Affairs and, prior to that, as Executive Secretary of the UN Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC). From 1989 to 1997, he held a number of high-level posts in the Government of Colombia, including Minister of Finance and Public Credit, Director (Minister) of the National Planning Department, and Minister of Agriculture. He has served as Executive Director of FEDESARROLLO, Professor of Economics at Universidad de los Andes, and Professor of Economic History at Universidad Nacional de Colombia, and visiting professor at Cambridge, Oxford and Yale Universities. He has published extensively on macroeconomic theory and policy, international financial issues, economic and social development, international trade, and Colombian and Latin American economic history.

Fraser Reilly-King, Coordinator, Halifax Initiative Coalition

Fraser Reilly-King is the Coordinator of the Halifax Initiative Coalition, the Canadian presence for public interest research and education on International Financial Institutions and Export Credit Agencies (ECAs). Fraser is responsible for coordinating all aspects of the Coalition's work. Prior to becoming the Coordinator, Fraser worked for the NGO Working Group on Export Development Canada, a working group of the Halifax Initiative and the Canadian focal point for ECA-Watch, a network of international groups working to reform the activities of ECAs. He has been with the Coalition since 2002. Fraser has also worked as a Communications Officer at the United Nations Association in Canada, an intern at the Youth Unit of the United Nations in New York, and as an English teacher (in Ecuador and Toronto). He is currently on the Board of the Canary Research Institute on Mining, Environment and Health. Fraser has a Masters of Science in Development Studies from the London School of Economics, with a focus on gender issues.

Cristina Rojas, Professor, Norman Paterson School of International Affairs, Carleton University

Cristina Rojas is a professor at the Norman Paterson School of International Affairs at Carleton University. She has also worked in Javeriana University in Colombia and is a visiting scholar at Harvard and York universities as well as the University of North Carolina. She is the author of Civilization and Violence: Regimes of Representation in Nineteenth Century Colombia, and has contributed to and edited several other books on related topics

John Sinclair, Senior Fellow, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa

John Sinclair, born in the UK, has lived many years in Canada. After studying economics at Cambridge University, he has followed a career in international development. After a period with the Economist Intelligence Unit, he was an economic advisor with what is now UK DFID, working mainly on Asia. He joined CIDA in 1974 working for them on Asia, Africa and global policy issues, including north-south dialogue and indebtedness. For a number of years he was employed at the World Bank, first as an advisor to Canada's Executive Director, then on staff working on global program effectiveness and South Asia. He is now a Senior Fellow at Ottawa University, as well as a NSI Research Associate. His current research and writing interests include global development architecture, aid effectiveness and donor performance.

Jomo K. Sundaram, Assistant Secretary-General for Economic Development, Department of Economic and Social Affairs, United Nations

Jomo Sundaram is the Assistant Secretary-General for Economic Development, Department of Economic and Social Affairs, United Nations and is Honorary Research Coordinator for the G24 Intergovernmental Group on International Monetary Affairs and Development. He also serves as adviser to the President of the 63rd UN General Assembly and as member of the Stiglitz Commission of Experts. He has held teaching positions at the Faculty of Economics and Administration at the University of Malaya, at the Science University of Malaysia, Harvard University, Yale College, National University of Malaysia, Cambridge, and Cornell University. His most recent publications include Tigers in Trouble; Rents, Rent-Seeking and Economic Development: Theory and the Asian Evidence; Malaysian Eclipse: Economic Crisis and Recovery; and Globalization Versus Development: Heterodox Perspectives and Southeast Asia's Industrialization. He is co-founder of the International Institute for Development Economic Analysis Network, a not-for-profit organization linking development economists around the world. He received his B.A. from Yale and his M.P.A. and Ph.D. from Harvard.

Oscar Ugarteche, Instituto de Investigaciones Economicas, UNAM, Mexico

Oscar Ugarteche is a Senior Research Fellow at the Instituto de Investigaciones Economicas, UNAM, Mexico and is a member of the Latin American Network on Debt and Development. He is a former Professor of International Finance at the Catholic University of Peru.

PARTICIPANTS' LIST

Please note – this is not a full list of participants at the meeting since a large number of individuals expressed an interest in keeping their information private.

1. Soren Ambrose, Action Aid International
2. Raymond Baker, Global Financial Integrity
3. Bob Baldwin, Independent
4. Gerry Barr, Canadian Council for International Co-operation
5. Francisco Barrio, Embassy of Mexico
6. Gordon Betcherman, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa
7. Amar Bhattacharya, Intergovernmental Group of 24
8. Iain Brannigan, Political, International and Development Studies Student Association, University of Ottawa
9. David Bruer, Inter Pares
10. Nicolas Bruehl, Embassy of Switzerland
11. Louise Casselman, Public Service Alliance of Canada
12. Andrew Clarke, Embassy of Australia
13. Tracey Coates, Canadian Environmental Network
14. Fidel Coloma, Embassy of Chile
15. Duff Conacher, Democracy Watch
16. Norman Cook, Nagoya / Osaka Univeversity for Law and Economics, Japan
17. Catherine Coumans, MiningWatch Canada
18. Roy Culpeper, The North-South Institute
19. John Davies, International Finance and Development Division, Finance Canada
20. Raywat Deonandan, University of Ottawa
21. John Dillon, KAIROS-Canada
22. Lucia Dolcetti, University of Ottawa
23. Mai Elramly, University of Ottawa
24. Monina Febria, University of Ottawa
25. John Foster, The North-South Institute
26. Robert Fox, Oxfam-Canada
27. Martin Franche, Canadian International Development Agency
28. Chuck Freedman, Centre for Monetary and Financial Economics, Carleton University
29. Laurel Gascho-Ramirez, Department of Finance
30. Heather Gibb, The North-South Institute
31. Peter Gillespie, Inter Pares
32. Sybil Grace, Nonviolent Peaceforce Canada
33. Iyoywuese Hagher, Nigerian High Commission
34. Teresa Healy, Canadian Labour Congress
35. Pablo Heidrich, The North South Institute
36. Lina Holguin, Oxfam-Québec
37. Sebastien Hubert, Embassy of France
38. Gail Hurley, European Network on Debt and Development
39. Nihal Kappagoda, Nihal Kappagoda & Associates
40. Davis Kateregga, Rio+10 Coalition
41. Amy Kishek, University of Ottawa
42. Catherine Kunz, Canadian International Development Agency
43. Genevieve Leroux, Carleton University
44. Kari Polanyi Levitt, Emerita Professor, McGill University
45. Domenico Lombardi, Oxford Institute for Economic Policy
46. Peter Loveridge, Carleton University
47. Lisa Mallin, Carleton University
48. Loredana Marchetti, International Development Research Centre
49. Andrea Martinez, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa

50. Jane Maxwell, The North-South Institute
51. Fiona Meyer Cook, Canadian Council for International Co-operation
52. John Mihevc, KAIROS Canada
53. Lisa Mills, Carleton University
54. Mejlina Modanu, Department of Foreign Affairs Canada
55. Gisele Morin-Labatut, Independent
56. Bill Morton, The North-South Institute
57. Tina Nanyangwe, former Debt, Aid and Trade Programme, Jesuit Centre for Theological Research
58. Johan Nel, High Commission of South Africa
59. Shailabala Nijowne, Consultant
60. Anna Nitoslawska, Canadian Labour Congress
61. José Antonio Ocampo, Program in Economic and Political Development, School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University
62. Ethan Plato, International, Development Studies Student Association
63. Kari Polanyi-Levitt, McGill Emerita
64. Tasmin Rajotte, Quaker International Affairs Programme
65. Mandy Robertson, The North South Institute
66. Marvin Robertson, Université de Quebec
67. Chantal Robillard, Universities of Ottawa and McGill
68. Cristina Rojas, Norman Paterson School of International Affairs, Carleton University
69. Siobhan Rowan, Development and Peace
70. Dane Rowlands, Carleton University
71. Arne Ruckert, University of Ottawa
72. Deloris Russell, Canadian Nurses Association
73. Bill Ryan, Jesuit Forum
74. Sabina Saini, Results Canada
75. Marion Sandilands, International Development Research Centre
76. Rachel Savard, University of Ottawa
77. Jean-Baptiste Sawadago, Leader One Inc.
78. Rodney Schmidt, The North-South Institute
79. Rashmi Sharma, Canadian International Development Agency
80. Yaroslav Shiskin, Embassy of the Russian Federation
81. John Sinclair, School of International Development and Global Studies, University of Ottawa
82. Anurag Sinha, Consultant
83. Rebecca Smith, International Development Research Centre
84. Sandra Smithey, Charles Stewart Mott Foundation
85. Susan Spronk, University of Ottawa
86. Gauri Sreenivasan, Canadian Council for International Cooperation
87. Nicci Stein, Interagency Coalition on AIDS and Development
88. Jomo K. Sundaram, Department of Economic and Social Affairs, United Nations
89. Jean-Louis Tierman, Canadian Security Intelligence Service
90. Bob Thomson, Consultant
91. John Toth, Toth Equity Limited
92. Oscar Ugarteche, Instituto de Investigaciones Economicas, UNAM, Mexico
93. Mel Watkins, Make Poverty History
94. Clare Westwood, Pesticide Action
95. Stephen Williamson, TWD Associates
96. Kristin Weatherall, Oxfam Canada
97. Surendrini Wijeyaratne, Canadian Council for International Cooperation

As of October 16, 2009