

Climate Change and Poverty: Off the Table?

In the wake of the financial crisis, countries around the world have cut back on their commitments to combat climate change and poverty. As the G8/G20 leaders prepare to gather in June, what are the challenges and opportunities for getting these issues back on the table?

Presenters:

Charles Abugre, Director of Campaigns for the Millennium Development Goals, United Nations Development Program

Gauri Sreenivasan, Policy Coordinator, Canadian Council for International Co-operation
